International Manager - FORMIT Foundation

- FORMIT is a no-profit Foundation in roster consultative status to the UN Economic and Social Council.
- Since 20 years, FORMIT is committed to support the use of technology to drive socioeconomic development, to maintain social, cultural, environmental and economic sustainability.

- We have experienced that Information and Communication Technologies are a key to development
- A major part of our institutional initiatives support the north-south and south-south cooperation in technological matters

- December 6 to 10, 2004 Formit has promoted and funded the
- “International Programme for non-G8 Countries on the Management of Public Procurement of Technologies in the ICT and Healthcare Areas”
- Over 60 Delegates from 30 non-G8 Countries have participated

- Which high value-added items can be transferred within a north-south and south-south cooperating process for free?
- Which items can best contribute to boost the progress towards the MDGs?
- Which actions to improve cooperation policies to reduce the Digital Divide?

- General Interest Applications and e-Government software:
 - Most general interest applications and related best practices could be easily transferred, re-deployed and put to service to support the institutional, technological, economic and social development of receiving countries

- The LOGO and name of the initiative...

- 1 $ will be the symbolic price of the CD-ROM used to store the application conferred by donor Countries for the initiative;
